

This diagram is a visual example of the importance of community/school collaboration and how both can/will utilize resources in the community to succeed. Through this model children benefit from restorative practices happening in their schools and in their communities.